Cables Much Better Than Due, But Improved Weather Encourages Liquidation

Thursday afternoon, June 5. For some reason, which did not re-ceive satisfactory explanation, there was a much better showing at Liverwas a much better showing at Liverpool during the early part of the session there than expected, but it received scant response in the American speculative centers. Improved weather in the belt and indications that there may be a spell of settled conditions evidently received most attention and induced considerable liquidation. The result was a reaction of about $5 a bale and a sharp downturn in Liverpool before her close. The market was apparently in an indeclaive mood today, but the reaction crowd a little more confident.

weather conditions were more favorable than they have been in a long time. The map showed that the wet spell was rapidly passing out to the east and that fair was following, with temperatures tending toward normal Barometric pressures were not suggestive of fresh unsettlement, and naturally this turned the trades attention to the chances of overcoming the effects of the prolonged wet period. There was no disposition to question the sections of the situation resulting from the weather, but pessimistic views were not so much to the fore and some advices came telling of probabilities of the crop aspect being quite different if the open, warm weather continues for a time. Moreover, it was feit by many observers that the bull side had been pretty well exhausted and it would now require constant support to overcome the natural tendency of values as to the crop. In short, the technical position was not favorable to further rise at the moment.

Reports from the dry goods markets continued to tell or scarcity of offerings and of advancing prices, but this was sexplained in part, according to some, by the limited output because of insufficient labor which also suggested that consumption was likewing being restricted. However, there was good support at times during the day by spot people and some calling on contracts was reported. Weather conditions were more favor-support at times during the day by spot people and some calling on contracts was reported.

Liverpool for a time after her opening was around $1 points sterling better than due. Before closing, however, the list sagged until finals were 12 to 29 points to the bad, with tone called easy. Spots were off 35 points, midding to 18,05d, and sales were smaller than they have been, 6,699 bales changing hands, including 5,200 American. Receipts for the day were 12,099 bales, including 9,800.

At the opening October in New York was up 25 points, but July was the same as previous close. October started at 29,75, touched 29,80 and then gradually sold off to 28,75, which was a drop from the extreme high of 245 points. Weather and less snap to spot demand, with some manipulative efforts on the part of professionals, were dominant influences, but on the decline good huving developed. The upturn was not much, however, and for a time backing and filling featured trading. In the late afternoon October worked up to 29,19, but again met selling orders and reaced slightly.

There was nothing of much importance from the spot department, although less activity is being shown and ouvers report the spinners doing but little. The exports are still limited and statistics are bearish, which tends to discourage buying a bit.

Futures closed 45 to 53 points lower. In the local market there is not the same snap about demand, but holders were snap about demand, but holders

In the local market there is not the same snap about demand, but holders are reported to be showing no anxiety and are firm in their ideas of value. The big business of the past few weeks has taken a lot of the unsold stuff off the market and those who own the rest are very independent. For the day sales were 600 bales and quotations were unchanged, middling 32c.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The cotton market was irregular during today's early trading. The opening advance of five to 20 points was only a partial response to higher Liverpool cables owing to better weather in the belt, while trade buying and some rebuying by sold-out longs was supplied by realizing and scattered Southern selling. July sold at 30.60c on the call, broke to 30.25c, or 12 points net lower, and then raillied to 30.39c, while October sold off from 28.50c to 29.30c and raillied to 29.50c or back to about last night's closing price before the end of the first hour.

Early railies met increased offerings with the selling promoted by favorable weather forecasts and reports of more unsettled conditions in the goods trade. Wall street was a particularly heavy seller and fresh stop orders were uncovered on the late forences break to 25.70c for July and 28.75c for October, or about 70 to 75 points from last night's close.

The market turned firmer during the early afternoon on covering and reports of heavy rains in the Carolinas. July sold up to 30.25c and October to 29.18c, or within 15 to 36 points of last night's closing figures.

Futures closed steady at decline of 44 to 28 points.

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 5.—Good cables caused a rise of 2 to 10 points on the opening of the cotton market today but immediately after the call offerings increased on prospects of better weather and prices fell off until at the end of the first half hour of trading they were 23 to 29 points under the close of yesterday.

Liquidation of long cotton became heavy. In the trading up to noon prices were nent 77 to 84 points lower than the final quotations of yesterday.

Early sellers went to realizing, furnishing the market with a moderat demand which caused a small recovery. At 1 o'clock prices were at a net loss of 65 to 67 points.

Spots closed quiet at decline of 25 points; ordinary, 20.25c; good ordinary, 22.25c; low middling, 22.75c. Sales on the spot, 1,348; to arrive, 1,622. Delivered on contract, none.

Futures closed steady at decline of 45 to 65 points.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Relief over the money situation was again the dominant influence at the opening of the stock market today. Buying orders for all classes of stock were numerous, particularly for the food, ell, motor, rubber, copper, shipping, leather, steel and gas properties, members of which ruled from 1 to 5 points higher, the latter advance being made by Stude-baker. Prominent railroads did not vary much aside from Bouthern Facific, which was a point higher.

Reactions of 1 to 2 points in some of the steel, oil, shipping and motor shares was without perceptible effect on market sentiment, the rise being pursued vigorously in other quarters, especially in coppers, tobaccos, American Sugar and American Ice. GRAIN MARKETS CHICAGO. June b.—Bearish sentiment continued today to predominate in the corn market. One of the reasons given for the absence of demand was that the crop, although late, seemed to be rapidly catching up, and that in some sections 10 days of warm weather would make this condition of the plant about normal. ROUND THE TICKER

After several years association with the firm of J. F. Mathis & Co., where they learned the business of handling cotton from their father, J. K. and H. P. Mathis have entered business on thir own responsibility. The style of the new firm is Mathis Bros. & Co. They will buy cotton.

New Orleans—Map shows two improved conditions, fair, warmer western and central belt; also Alabama, no rain; cloudy Atlantics, with rather general rains heavier in coast sections. English consels % lower to 54%; lowest in years.—Clark & Co.

New Orleans—Liverpool cables:

New Orleans.—Liverpool cables: "Steady market with a decidedly better tone. Much liquidation; moderate but continuous trade buying."—Shepard & Gluck.

New York—Spot houses buyers. They were supplied by the South and profes-sionals on improving weather over the belt.

New York.—Local sentiment very bearish; not enough buying power here to sustain it for the moment; Weld advises buying all breaks.—Delaney to Cotter & Turner. New Orleans.—Market opened steady enough, but fell off immediately after the call. New York reports liquidation and there are rumors that big traders on the long side are unloading.—Shepard & Gluck.

New York reports strong advances on some lines of cotton goods. Bleached cottons have advanced 2½ cents a yard, making a rise of 5 cents for the week, or about 30 cents a pound.

week, or about 30 cents a pound.

New York—Spot demand is Liverpool is moderating with sales being only 6,000 at a decline of 35 points. Futures, however, are 28 to 31 points better than due. The check given to speculative activity in the security market is being reflected in other markets, the dry goods centers reporting a calmer situation. The outward movement from our shores is disappointing. Southern offerings were in increased volume and the buying power certainly less. While further price recession would excite no surprise, the general sentiment still favors the bull side.—Fallon to Shepard & Gluck.

New York—Retter weather man

& Gluck.

New York.—Better weather map brought outside sellers on Liverpool universellers.—Hubbard to Reese.

New Orleans—Three cents' break appears to have pretty well shaken out speculative longs. Spot holders meanwhile refusing meet decline, and unless present demand for cotton and cotton goods diminishes some recovery seems probable.—Ellis & Co. Night Letter. New York cotton opinions: Hutton & Co.—The market is in a position to do better should any unfavorable crop developments occur. Orvis Bros.—Erratic markets are likely as a result of speculative liquidation to come and trade buying as conditions require.—S. M. Weld & Co.—We believe purchases on these setbacks will ultimately show good profits.

New Orleans New York

New Orienas.—New York wires:
"Think the biggest long lines were quietly liquidated on the strong markets of last week. The trade is buying at the decline. Professional traders are short."—Shepard & Gluck. Augusta wires: Raining steadily for last two days. Cotton injured."

New Orleans.—A share of cotton ex-change stock sold at $10,000 this morn-ing, the highest price in many years.— Shepard & Gluck. New Orleans.—New York wires: "Liquidation about over; big speculative long interest about out and now short. Market comes back more easily and would respond quickly to buying."—Clark & Co.

New Orleans.—Market shows little resistance and looks like spells of liquidation. Spots quieter. New York reports further selling to liquidate from Wall street. Think on further break it is a buy for quick ralles.—Clark & Co. New York.—Think liquidation about over; outsiders heavily short; trade buying and calling.—McElroy to Cotter & Turner.
